What you will need: Blood Borne Pathogen

Certification <https://www.nationalcprfoundation.com/courses/standard-bloodborne-pathogens-2/>

Note: Technicians are not required to carry a cosmetology, Esthetician, or medical license in order to become certified. To get licensed you must check your state requirements. For Texas you will need a tattoo license.

Career Opportunity: If you're serious about dramatically increasing your income and being passionate about your work with clients that will love you, then becoming a microblading technician is perfect for you. The average procedure costs between $200-$800 and takes about 2 hours to complete. A microblading technician can treat one client a day (or 20 a month) and make a monthly revenue of $7,000, minus the disposable tools (20 x $25) is $6,500 per month before overheads and taxes. (All numbers are approximated and may vary depending on clientele location and marketing.)

What You Will Learn:

- The consent forms and liability release documents that your clients need to sign
- Range of techniques to meet client's expectations and needs
- Perform and complete procedure observing health and safety regulations at all times
- Undertake client consultations

Continued Education and “Getting Started” help:

Students will have special access to LA Luxury Beauty’s Daily Station Rental. This means that if you’ve been trained by our academy you may rent a station in our PMU room at a daily rate of:

$100 Includes use of disposable supplies (everything excluding ink, blades, cartridges, numbing, and PMU machines)

Or

$75 You’d be expected to provide all your own supplies for your clients

Rental stations will be available Tuesday-Friday from 11am-7pm & Saturday from 9am-3pm

+ Your daily rental fee allows you access that day during those times, so fill it up with clients!

An instructor will be close by for help if needed but won’t be supervising the entire procedure.
